The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) is the name of the food stamp program. The monthly net income for one person cannot be greater than $903. 6 quick facts that explain SNAP, food stampsYou hear it all the time, but do you know what SNAP is? The earned income deduction is for those who derive income from a job and is 20 percent of the monthly gross earned income. Net Income Limits Applicable deductions are taken from the household's gross income to arrive at its net income. For households with a disabled individual or one over the age of 60, the household does not have to meet the gross income limit, but must meet the net income limit. The program helps low-income individuals and families purchase groceries to prepare at home. The standard deduction ranges from a minimum of $142 for households with one to three members to a maximum of $205 for households with six or more people. Monthly gross income for a two-person household cannot exceed $1,579. For a household with seven people, the monthly net income limit is $2,773, and the limit is $3,085 for eight people.
