Android mockup.

Last updated: July 28, 2022 Android keeps a strong first place (76.24%) by the distribution of the OS comparing to iOS (22.48%), according to StatCounter. And it is not a surprise, because these devices are much more affordable than iPhones. If there is such high demand in the number of devices worldwide, Android mockups can likely be needed in the design community as well. Below you will find some of the best apps for designing your next presentation, Dribbble shot or AppStore screenshots. We're sure they'll come in handy and we hope that by using them, you'll be able to create better presentations! Samsung Galaxy S20 Realistic Size: 16.1 MB Format: PSD | Download Free Mockup Samsung Galaxy S20 Clay Size: 16.8 MB Format: PSD | Download Free Mockup Samsung Galaxy Tab S7+ Clay Size: 13.9 MB Format: PSD | Download Free Mockup Google Pixel Clay Mockup Size: 3.1 MB Format: PSD | Download Free Mockup Samsung Galaxy S10 Mockup Size: 6.9 MB Format: PSD | Download Free Mockup Size: 6.3 MB Format: PSD | Download Mockup Size: 23.7 MB Format: PSD | Download Mockup Samsung Galaxy S9 by Yash Ranpara Size: 5.6 MB Format: PSD | Download Mockup Nexus 5x Free PSD by Tyler Gough Size: 2.8 MB Format: PSD | Download Mockup The iPhone may be the most popular mobile phone in the market, but Android dominates the global market share by close to 86%. That alone should tell you that if you have to market your digital product, you might as well use an Android mockup. It is a great thing that the internet is teeming with free mockups that will help you enrich your products. The user exchange website provides at least 20 free Android mockups that will be perfect for different types of digital products. The different mockups also make use of the various mobile devices that use the Android mobile operating system. Collection of Android mockup designs Among the PSD mockups from the collection provided by UX Planet is the Samsung Galaxy S10 mockup creation by Ramotion. It's just a simple mockup showing the Samsung Galaxy S10 with a simple black background. It is a basic Clay mockup. This is perfect for showcasing the actual product without any necessary or unnecessary accessories. This is a kind of mockup that you need if you are demonstrating a moving product. The simplicity and minimalism of the Clay means that speed will be utilized well. Samsung mockups are also significant because Samsung is the most popular brand among the Android lineup. Another mockup from the same collection is the Google Pixel 3 Clay mockup. The mockup features two Pixels with one showcasing a black background and another showing a white background. This is a great mockup when you want to do a comparative canvas for your digital product. This way, users will have a choice — should they choose the black background or the white background? Should they prefer the product shown in this perspective or that perspective? It is not just about the background, though, it is also about showing two different contexts of the same digital product. Ramotion also has another mockup that shows three different Samsung phones in one mockup. Ramotion products are available in PSD file and Sketch formats. This particular mockup will allow you to show off at least three pages from the same website. Creating a prototype close to the actual website design is going to be difficult. A mockup will help you showcase different aspects of the website without actually creating it. When to really use Android mockup? There are so many different digital products that you can create a mockup to: software, mobile websites, mobile applications, e-books, music, videos, courses and many more. But one really important reason to use Android mockup is if you want to demonstrate Android apps. There is no better way to showcase an Android app than through an Android mockup, right? If you want to really show the range of how your application will look on most Android devices, you can choose a devices mockup for Androids. This kind of mockup puts a number of Android devices — from at least three to maybe up to seven types of Android mobile phones — together in one mockup. This will showcase how the application will look on a Samsung phone, a Pixel, OnePlus, LG, Moto and Oppo, among others. Despite Bill Gate's stance regarding Android's world dominance, there is really no denying the operating system's popularity especially in developing nations. Stylized Android mockup There is another type of mockup that will really help you wrap your digital product in a very nice package and that is through mockup setups. What this means is that the mockup will showcase the Android device along with accessories that will really convey the message of your product. Colorlib.com is one of the great repositories for mockups. The templates are downloadable and can be worked on with Smart Object, which allows you to edit the image on the mockup without damaging the original product. This is because editing will be done on the smart layer rather than the pixel itself. So when you resize, the pixels will not be distorted. One such mockup is called the Young Woman with her Sony Xperia ZR Smartphone. All you have to do is drag and drop your own design or digital product image to the screen of the phone on the template. Now this is perfect if your product will cater to young woman. While the woman on the photo is not clear, she looks young. So what does a young woman do? She could be shopping for fashion accessories or she could be messaging people on her phone. When you use mockups, you have to play on the stereotypes because that is the only way you can send the message across. Yes, not all women love to shop, but most do. In other words, your mockup will do more than just showcase your design, it also tells a story — your story. There is another interesting mockup: Old Android HTC Phone Mockup in PSD. So there are no accessories here. But the mockup also tells a story. The mockup shows the old HTC phone on a colored background. You could put your product design on the screen of the phone, which is prominently displayed. So what is the story? This mockup will tell the audience that no matter how old their phone is, your digital product will still look vibrant and realistic on it. Showcasing digital products in a digital way Cardboard cutouts and physical visual aids are things of the past when it comes to digital presentations. PowerPoint presentations are also not as interesting when you want to entice clients to get on board your digital product. You have to present a product that is as close to the real thing as possible. And the best prototype there is comes in the form of an Android mockup. While the internet presents a lot of free mockups for your perusal, you have to really infuse creativity and knowledge into tapping the appropriate mockup. If you want to seal the deal, you have to make the right choice when it comes to presenting your ware. We hope you enjoyed this selection and we can't wait to design some more devices for you. Originally published at on October 14, 2019. CHICAGO, Jan. 20, 2012 /PRNewswire via COMTEX/ -- Online rental resource leader, Apartments.com, is answering the apartment search needs of Android(TM)-powered phone users nationwide by announcing the launch of its application in Android Market(TM). Android continues to be one of the most preferred platforms in the U.S. with 47 percent of all smartphone users owning an Android-powered phone, according to comScore's November 2011 U.S. Mobile Subscriber Market Share report. To appeal to the apartment search needs of this rapidly growing audience of smartphone users, Apartments.com is giving Android enthusiasts more ways to find a place to live. By creating instant access to thousands of apartment listings—representing millions of apartments—Android phone owners can now conduct location-based searches in a visually-enhanced media format including walk-through videos, photos, floor plans and GPS directly from the palm of their hand. "We want to give apartment hunters a variety of search options," said Chris Brown, VP of product management at Apartments.com. "With mobile devices predicted to overtake PCs for accessing online information in the next year or two, we added the Android app to our mobile product suite to give renters more choices to choose from when conducting their apartment search. Unlike other apartment apps on the market, we designed our app specifically for Android to ensure we deliver the best user experience." The Apartments.com Android application key features include: The most comprehensive and vivid database of apartments nationwide Search for apartments near any location, use GPS to search exact location Refine search by location, price, number of bedrooms, number of bathrooms, amenities and more View photos, floorplans and video walkthroughs of apartment listings Save apartment listings as favorites and access them again at anytime Saved searches allow apartment shoppers to pick up their apartment search where they left off The Apartments.com Android application is free and now available in Android Market. The addition of the Android app to the Apartments.com mobile product suite—including iPhone or iTouch app and a mobile website—puts apartment shoppers in control of their search. By providing renters with even more choices on how they access apartment information, they can search at anytime from anywhere and on any mobile device they choose.
