You can only delete it.iOS: Settings > General > iPhone Storage > WhatsApp > Delete App or long tap the app on your home screen to select X or Remove App.Android: Settings > Apps > WhatsApp > Storage > Clear data. WhatsApp doesn't have the option to log out on the iOS or Android apps. This article outlines how to delete the app on iOS and clear data on Android, which are the only ways to log out for all intents and purposes. To log out of WhatsApp on iOS, you basically have to delete the app from your device. If you're not already backing up your app data, follow the instructions at the end of this article before proceeding. Go to your iOS Settings. Select General. Select iPhone Storage. Scroll down and select WhatsApp. Select Delete App. Confirm you want to delete the app by selecting Delete App again. You can also delete WhatsApp directly from your home screen by tapping and holding your finger down on the app icon. Depending on your iOS version, select the X in the top corner of the app icon or select Remove App from the menu. Unlike WhatsApp for iOS, you don't need to delete the Android app to log out of your account. You do, however, need to clear the app's data from your device settings. If you're don't already back up your app data, follow the instructions at the end of this article first. Open your Android device Settings. Scroll down and select Apps. Scroll down and select WhatsApp. Under Usage, select Storage. Tap Clear data at the bottom of the screen. Tap OK to confirm. You can confirm you've been logged out by opening WhatsApp. You should see that you'll need to log back in again to use it. WhatsApp allows you to log out of your account on the web, desktop app, or Facebook Portal, but no on the WhatsApp mobile apps. When you exit WhatsApp on your mobile device, the app goes into standby mode, meaning you'll still receive messages and calls. If you want to back up your data on an iPhone, you need to link it to an iCloud account. In WhatsApp for iOS, tap Settings > Chat Backup > Back Up Now. Doing this will allow you to restore your chat history and media if you decide to return to the app. On Android, you need to connect your account to a cloud service. In WhatsApp for Android, select the three vertical dots in the top corner followed by Settings > Chats > Chat Backup > Backup. You then have the opportunity to restore your data when you log back in. Control your phone, your favorite apps, and the web with your voice. So things are easier, wherever you are. The tools you need to find balance with your phone. Turn on Wind Down to disconnect before bedtime or use app timers to set boundaries you can keep. So more people can connect in new ways. From captioning almost anything on your phone to features that help you hear more clearly, Android is built for everyone. Adaptive Battery sends power to the apps and services you use most. Saving battery life, for when you really need it. On iPhone: Open Settings > Messages > turn on Send Read Receipts. On Android: Settings > Chat features, Text Messages, or Conversations and turn on desired Read Receipts options.In WhatsApp: Settings > Account > Privacy > Read Receipts. Here's how to tell if someone read your text on Android and iOS smartphones or in the Facebook Messenger and WhatsApp instant messaging apps. This information covers Google Messages, the Messages app for iOS, and the WhatsApp and Messenger instant messaging apps. On an iPhone, read receipts are the only way to tell if someone read a text you sent from Messages, the default texting app for iOS. If you and your recipient both use the Apple iMessage service and activated read receipts, you'll see the word Read under your last message to the recipient, along with the time the message was read. Here's how to enable or disable read receipts in Messages for iOS: Read receipts work only when both you and your recipient enable iMessage from the Messages settings. Read receipts don't work if you use SMS messaging or if your recipient doesn't use an iOS device. Open Settings. Tap Messages (the green icon with a white text bubble inside it). Turn on Send Read Receipts. Others are notified when you read their messages. If your recipient also enabled read receipts, you'll see Read beneath your message along with the time it was read. The situation is similar on Android phones. The Google Messages app supports read receipts, but the carrier must also support this feature. Your recipient must have read receipts activated for you to see if they read your message. Here's how to turn on read receipts on Android phones: The directions below should apply no matter who made your Android phone: Samsung, Google, Huawei, Xiaomi, etc. There may, however, be slight variations depending on the Android version. From the text messaging app, open Settings. If you don't see Settings, tap the three vertical dots or lines at the top of the screen. Go to Chat features, Text Messages, or Conversations. If this option isn't on the first page that displays, tap More Settings. Turn on (or turn off) the Read Receipts, Send Read Receipts, or Request Receipt toggle switches, depending on your phone and what you want to do. Turn on Delivery Receipts to find out if your text message was delivered to the recipient. (This option doesn't tell you if the message was read.) On newer phones, open the Messages app and go to Settings > Advanced > Get SMS delivery reports. WhatsApp uses built-in read receipts in the form of check marks next to messages. One grey check mark means the message was sent; two grey check marks mean the message was delivered, and two blue check marks mean the message was read. If you don't want senders to know if you read their messages, here's how to disable read receipts in WhatsApp: In WhatsApp, read receipts are a two-way street. If you disable read receipts to prevent others from knowing you read their messages, you won't know when they read yours. Open WhatsApp and tap Settings (gear icon) in the lower-right corner. Tap Account. Tap Privacy. Turn off the Read Receipts toggle switch to prevent the other person from knowing when you've read a message. Close Settings. Read receipts are disabled, and the two blue check marks don't appear on messages you send or read. You can't turn off read receipts in group messages on WhatsApp. If you're looking for specific information about WhatsApp messages you sent, here's how to see your message details. Open WhatsApp and tap a chat. Swipe left on a message to open the Message Info screen. Alternatively, tap and hold the message and select Info. If read receipts aren't disabled, you'll see the exact time your message was delivered and read. Messenger doesn't have read receipts. Instead, it displays icons that reveal when your message is sending, when it's sent, when it's delivered, and when it's read. When your message is sending, you'll briefly see a blue circle. When it's sent, you'll see a blue circle with a check mark. When it's delivered, you'll see a filled-in blue circle. Finally, when it's read, you'll see a small version of your recipient's profile image below the message. To read a Messenger message without letting the sender know you've read it, read it on the notification screen instead of opening the message. FAQ Can I turn on read receipts for one person on iPhone? Yes. In the Messages app, tap the individual contact, then tap Send Read Receipts. Can I tell if an email has been read in Apple Mail? Can I enable read receipts in Gmail on iPhone? It depends. You can only see read receipts if you have a work or school Gmail account. In the message composition window, select the three dots > Request read receipt. Thanks for letting us know! Get the Latest Tech News Delivered Every Day Subscribe Tell us why!
